

Welcome to FIT2ONE Online Personal Training System ("FIT2ONE"), property and managed by ACTIVA Gestión Deportiva, S.L. In compliance to what stipulated on the Organic Law 15/1999, of December 13th regarding the Protection of Personal Data (LOPD), and other laws that are applicable and/or substitute it, all the information received on the web, through consultations, data sending, or any other mean, will be treated with the most strict and absolute confidentiality.

All those users that give their data through the website will own the rights of access, rectification and/or cancellation of their data as it is recognized on the LOPD, without any opposition, as the right to revoke the consent given for their data cession. The rights mentioned can be written exercised, in the address of the website owner given in the General Terms.

ACTIVA Gestión Deportiva, S.L. ensures the confidentiality and privacy of personal data. In addition to the minimal requirements established on the laws, the collection and treatment of the data are done under security levels that prevent their loss, manipulation or unauthorized access.

The data given will be incorporated on a database property of ACTIVA Gestión Deportiva, S.L. and will be used in order to manage the requested registrations, the assistance when the user asks for it, the website signing in, and the promotion of product and services.

The consent of the User to receive information will be considered given expressly and unequivocally through their data communication. In no case the data given will be ceased.

ACTIVA Gestión Deportiva, S.L. is not responsible for incidents that could occur around personal data when are caused by the lack of responsibility on the care and custody of the accessing passwords by the users or due to incidents on the system accesses.